

Announcing: Maria Orillano as Strategic Project Business Development Manager in Ontario.

Please join us in welcoming Maria Orillano as our new Strategic Project Business Development Manager in Ontario.

Maria brings 11 years of international experience in Oil & Gas operations, where she has led complex offshore projects and high-performing teams across multiple regions. She's recognized for delivering operational excellence, safety, and environmental performance.

In her new role, Maria will work closely with our Projects team to expand our strategic footprint across Ontario, identifying new opportunities and driving sustainable growth.

Beyond her technical expertise in project leadership, stakeholder collaboration, and process optimization, Maria is also a passionate mentor and advocate for women in engineering, actively supporting professional development in the industry.

Congratulations, Maria! We're thrilled to welcome you to the Noramco team and to your new role as Strategic Project Business Development Manager!
